They came from the realm of the undead, from the cold land that lays far away to the east of the Great Forest.

Vastly out numbered our brave warriors stood little chance. As the sage - said"You cannot kill something that is already dead." But the dead ones could kill what was alive..and they did.

They took the beautiful young princess, worse still they took the Ancient Scrolls that protected the land from Evil Ones. Now the people have given up all hope, and the domain lies in permanent darkness. You are chosen to cross the Great Forest, and go forth into the realm of the UNDEAD to save the princess and reclaim the Ancient Scrolls.
